underwater heart rate measurement, stroke measurement (swimming speed and efficiency), swimming styles, distance swum, etc.

Precise positioning and advanced sports features

The Zeblaze Stratos 2 Ultra is equipped with 6 dual-band L1/L5 satellite positioning systems and a built-in compass with barometric altimeter, making it an ideal companion for mountain hiking, running or cycling. The watch offers real-time route tracking and 170 pre-installed sports modes with automatic activity detection, so you can conveniently track every aspect of your workout.

Health monitoring and app syncing

The Zeblaze Stratos 2 Ultra allows you to monitor your heart rate, blood oxygen levels, sleep quality and many other health parameters, giving you full control over your fitness. In addition, the watch syncs with popular apps such as Strava and Apple Health, allowing you to track your workout progress and analyze data in real time.

Clear display

The smartwatch impresses with its large 1.43" AMOLED screen, which offers Hi-Res image quality, brightness of 1,000 nits and a screen-to-body ratio (STB) of 76%. It makes colors natural and clear, and the interface is easy to read.

Performance and long-lasting use

The smartwatch is equipped with an extremely powerful battery that provides up to 60 days of operation in power-saving mode, up to 30 days during regular use and up to 18 days in heavy use mode, making it ideal for those with active lifestyles and looking for reliable equipment.

Compatibility and ease of use
