Neewer Z2PRO-C oval flash for Canon

Meet the Neewer Z2PRO-C, a professional oval flash designed for Canon camera users. It offers an impressive 76Ws of power, TTL, manual and strobe flash modes, as well as a TCM function for quick transition from automatic to manual settings. It supports two 2.4G wireless systems (Neewer Q and Godox X) providing full flexibility for "master" or "slave" operation. With its HSS function (up to 1/8000 sec), 28-105mm auto zoom, dual modeling lights and extensive cooling system, the flash guarantees perfect results in all conditions. Powered by a powerful 3000mAh battery, it offers up to 600 full flashes and fast charging via USB-C.

Professional results in any situation

The flash automatically adjusts the zoom from 28-105mm, allowing you to achieve precise lighting effects tailored to your lens focal length. It supports exposure compensation of ± 3 EV, first and second curtain sync modes, and strobe flash. Thanks to its High-Speed Sync function with a flash duration of up to 1/8,000 sec, it is also perfect for intense daylight conditions. With flash durations ranging from 1/800 s to 1/20000 s, you can capture even the most dynamic shots.

Reliability and durability for the demanding

The Z2PRO-C is equipped with an advanced cooling system that allows you to perform as many as 100 flashes at maximum power without the risk of overheating the equipment. The upgraded quartz lamp guarantees a life of up to 100,000 flashes, and the 3,000 mAh lithium battery allows as many as 600 full flashes with a charging time of just 1.5 seconds. When the flash runs out of power, you can quickly restore it with a USB-C cable.

Full control and creativity

Dual modeling lights with 10-step brightness adjustment give you even more control over the atmosphere of your photo, and the ability to mount a variety of accessories makes the flash an extremely versatile tool. Thanks to its compatibility with the Neewer Q (Q200, Q4, S102 Pro, Q2 Receiver, Z1, Z2, Z880, NW760) and Godox X (Xpro, X3, X2) systems, the Z2PRO-C will be ideal both as an addition to an existing kit and as its foundation.
