Freewell case for Samsung S25 Ultra with 17mm mount

The Freewell case is much more than simple protection for your smartphone. Created with the Samsung S25 Ultra in mind, it combines minimalist design with advanced functionality. It supports MagSafe technology, allows instant installation of Freewell Galaxy Series filters and provides a solid construction with high-quality materials. With a built-in 17mm magnetic mount, it is the ideal choice for mobile photography enthusiasts who want to take their shots to the next level.

Professional photos at your fingertips

With its integrated 17mm mount, the Freewell case allows you to attach Galaxy Series filters instantly. It only takes a second to attach an ND, CPL or Mist filter (sold separately). It's perfect for filmmakers who want cinematic effect, reflection reduction or precise exposure control - without the need for additional adapters or complicated equipment.

MagSafe compatibility - comfort without compromise

The case is designed with full compatibility with MagSafe chargers and accessories. This means that you will seamlessly connect it to car mounts, powerbanks or wireless chargers that support this standard. It's the convenience you expect - without having to remove the case.

Sturdy construction and elegant design

Made from a combination of PC plastic and metal (iron), the case combines durability with elegant aesthetics. The slim, minimalist design does not interfere with the lines of the device, while effectively protecting it from scratches and bumps. It's a perfect combination of functionality and style that perfectly matches the character of your smartphone.

The perfect tool for mobile creators

If you're shooting or recording in the field, you'll appreciate the quick installation of filters and convenience of use. The Freewell case transforms your smartphone into an even more versatile content creation tool - whether you're working in bright sunlight or want to add a light mist effect to your shots.
