HiFiMAN Audivina planar headphones

HiFiMAN Audivina planar headphones will take you on a journey to a world of unparalleled acoustic precision. The closed design is inspired by the acoustics of the famous Bayreuth Festival Theatre - so you can be sure that the sound will be perfectly reproduced. The use of the NEO Supernano Diaphragm, 80% thinner than previous models, allows you to capture the finest musical details while maintaining impressive dynamics and wide frequency response. The patented Stealth Magnets eliminate interference, allowing sound waves to flow freely, resulting in a pure and natural sound. Thanks to the carefully designed resonance chamber, the sound gains depth and spaciousness, and the precisely selected materials make the use of the equipment highly comfortable.

NEO Supernano Diaphragm

The NEO Supernano Diaphragm, which the HiFiMAN Audivina headphones use, is up to 80% thinner than in previous designs. As a result, the equipment responds instantly to every impulse, offering a dynamic tonal range and pristine clarity of sound. Exceptional precision reveals details that may have previously gone unnoticed, offering superior sound reproduction - from deep, powerful bass to crystal clear treble.

Stealth Magnet - a breakthrough in sound clarity

The Audivina model is equipped with patented Stealth magnets that reduce sound wave interference. Thanks to their advanced design, the magnets allow sounds to flow freely, eliminating any distortion. As a result, the surround sound is full of depth that will delight both during analytical listening and relaxation with your favorite music.

Acoustics to match Bayreuth

Inspiration during the production of the Audivin model's resonance chamber came from the famous Bayreuth Festival Theatre, known for its exceptionally thoughtful acoustic architecture. The unconventional design allows sound to propagate in a near-natural way, which translates into a wide acoustic stage even in an enclosed space. The planar driver is distinguished by the use of ultra-low distortion technology, which minimizes distortion and allows you to hear the sound in its purest form. With HiFiMAN headphones, every song takes on a new dimension.

For the sake of your comfort

Every element of Audivin's design has been carefully engineered to provide you with maximum comfort while listening to audio. Lightweight but durable materials, such as the eco leather covering the earcups, gently wrap around your ears, eliminating the feeling of pressure even after hours. The precisely contoured headband conforms to the shape of the head, evenly distributing weight to minimize fatigue. The equipment weighs just 470 g.

Versatility of connections

Three high-quality cables, such as 3.5mm, 6.35mm and XLR, are included to ensure wide compatibility with audio devices. The use of copper and silver in their construction minimizes signal loss, guaranteeing purity of sound regardless of the audio source chosen.
