HiFiMAN Arya Stealth planar headphones

You have successfully acquired THIS album! You stretch out comfortably in your chair and wait reverently to listen to each track... It's obvious that such a moment requires quite a piece of equipment. The HiFiMAN Arya Stealth is a unique planar headphone that combines years of refined technology with timeless design, offering sound as natural and spacious as if you were at a private concert. This flagship model was created with the most demanding audiophiles in mind, offering unparalleled precision and depth of sound thanks to its nanometer diaphragm, carefully engineered construction and premium materials. Every detail of the headphones is thoughtfully designed to give you an unforgettable listening experience.

Unparalleled nanoscale diaphragm technology

At the heart of the HiFiMAN Arya Stealth is an ultra-thin, nanometer-thick diaphragm that allows for lightning-fast response with minimal distortion. Thanks to this technology, the headphones offer incredibly detailed and clear sound in the 8 Hz - 65 kHz range, while maintaining excellent tonal balance. Every sound is rendered with precision, and subtle whispers or the touch of guitar strings, become almost tangible. The diaphragm technology developed by HiFiMAN is the key to creating a wide soundstage that surrounds you from all sides.

"Window Shade" system

HiFiMAN Arya use a patented "Window Shade" system that supports an open design while protecting the drivers. The special shielding minimizes sound reflections and diffractions, avoiding unwanted distortion and vibrations. The result is a spacious, clear soundstage in which every instrument has its place. In addition, this system adds a modern and stylish look to the headphones.

Stealth asymmetrical magnetic system

The use of the Stealth asymmetrical magnetic system is the result of years of research and testing. Thanks to this solution, the Arya headphones are able to efficiently transform magnetic energy into sound with impressive details, while reducing interference. This arrangement makes it possible to achieve sound reproduction with exceptional clarity, which takes realism to a whole new level.

Ergonomic perfection - comfort without compromise

HiFiMAN Arya is not only about excellent sound, but also about wearing comfort. The headband is made of lightweight metal and precision-finished with CNC technology to ensure durability and fit to any head. Soft polyester and leather earcups guarantee excellent isolation and maximum comfort even during hours of listening. Thanks to the asymmetrical profile, the cushions fit perfectly on the head, which translates into a natural headphone positioning.

Unrivalled lightweight and luxurious design

At just 430 grams in weight, the Arya Stealth are an ideal choice for long listening sessions. The lightweight earcups with a slim design provide not only comfort, but also a sleek and modern look. These headphones are the quintessential design that harmonizes with their outstanding sound.

Flexibility and adaptation to sound sources
