Aprašymas

Empowering Digital Workplaces

As modern organisations continue to expand beyond the traditional office space, it's crucial for companies to adopt multi-faceted technology that aligns with their new ways of collaboration and work.
The RICOH IM C3010(A) goes beyond being simply a colour all-in-one printer by operating as a central hub for print and information management. By utilising cutting-edge apps and cloud-based solutions, this device empowers organisations to boost productivity and streamline operations from any location, creating a true digital workplace

Stay up-to-date, automatically

Empower your employees with the latest innovations using RICOH Always Current Technology. Our firmware upgrades are delivered directly to your device, ensuring optimal efficiency and security. With the ability to add new apps without the need for new hardware, you can expand your device capabilities and create a true digital workplace.
RICOH Always Current Technology provides scalable intelligence that can optimise workflows, allowing you to stay prepared for whatever the future holds.

Produce work that stands out

Create exceptional work by leveraging 1200 dpi advanced resolution for outstanding outcomes on various types of paper. Select the Fiery® Colour Controller E-26C to ensure accurate colour matching and design specifications.
Expand your capabilities with advanced finishing choices which allow you to generate documents with staples, staple-free and in booklet formats. For newsletters, company mailings, menus and other projects, consider adding the internal multi-folding unit as an option.

Secure your most important data

The surge in flexible work has significantly amplified the number of entry points attempting to access a shared network, resulting in vulnerability and jeopardising critical and proprietary data.
Our intelligent devices are fortified with a resilient operating system and up-to-date security features such as encryption, authentication, restricted print output access and data overwrite. You can work confidently from any location, knowing that your valuable data is protected.
