Multilingual meetings without borders

X1 is perfect for multi-person meetings, both online and offline. It enables simultaneous interpretation for groups of 3 to 20 people, supporting up to 5 languages at the same time. Each device is equipped with two headphones, allowing it to be used individually or shared between two people. With just one touch, you can automatically connect several X1 devices into a single network and start multidirectional simultaneous interpretation. Participants can freely use both the device's local resources and the cloud, ensuring smooth communication even in dynamic meeting conditions.

Remote conversations and multimedia translation

TIMEKETTLE X1 also excels at remote conversations. Two devices can conduct a voice conversation at a distance, and the built-in real-time translation makes communication between different regions of the world natural and seamless. In addition, the multimedia translation mode allows you to translate foreign films, video calls, or unexpected phone calls. When you connect the X1 to your phone or computer, you get translated subtitles on the screen and audio directly in your headphones, which significantly improves the comfort of interacting with content in foreign languages.

Global freedom of communication

The X1 supports 43 languages and 96 accents, covering most countries and regions of the world. The system recognizes dialectal differences and local nuances of pronunciation, which translates into greater precision and naturalness of translations. This makes conversations more fluid and authentic, whether you are communicating in a business environment, traveling, or meeting people from different cultures.
