Short summary:

Stay productive in your home or at the office with the world's first speakerphone with integrated multi-port adapter. This speakerphone offers great conferencing convenience, while the numerous built-in ports offer a variety of connectivity options. Now you can charge your laptop and transfer data while being connected to a display and your keyboard and mouse, plus get on a conference call - all at the same time.

Adapter speakerphone's compact design takes up little space, so you can easily fit the multiport adapter into your bag and take it anywhere. You can simply wrap the cable around the base when you're done. This prevent tangles and ensures it stays neat in your bag. Setup is fast and easy -- connect instantly without having to download any software for a ready-to-go solution. No drivers required.

The integrated microphone picks up sound from around the table, so every voice is heard. Speakerphone buttons make it easy to start calls, hang up and mute/unmute and adjust the volume. The smart design reduces unwanted background noise and echo. The device is Zoom certified and optimized for leading UC platforms like Teams, it lets you get on conference calls via your preferred platforms.
