Equipped with a massive 12288 MB of ultra-fast GDDR7 memory, the RTX 5070 ensures smooth performance even when loading massive textures or multitasking complex applications. The new GDDR7 standard provides unprecedented bandwidth, significantly reducing latency and boosting overall system responsiveness. Experience the full potential of Ray Tracing and AI-accelerated graphics features like the latest generation of DLSS.

Efficient Twin X2 Cooling Design

INNO3D ensures optimal thermal management with the reliable Twin X2 cooling solution. This dual-fan configuration is designed to efficiently dissipate heat away from the core components, maintaining lower temperatures even under heavy load. This robust cooling system guarantees sustained peak performance and long-term stability, ensuring your system runs quietly and efficiently.

Key Specifications and Features:

- GPU: NVIDIA GeForce RTX 5070 (Inferred next-gen architecture for superior gaming).
- Memory: 12288 MB (12 GB) GDDR7 VRAM for ultra-high texture settings.
- Cooling System: INNO3D Twin X2 dual-fan cooling for optimized thermal efficiency.
- Ideal for 4K gaming, high refresh rate monitors, and demanding content creation tasks.
- Supports advanced Ray Tracing capabilities and AI-powered performance boost technologies.

INNO3D is recognized globally for manufacturing innovative and reliable graphics cards that push the boundaries of performance and design. Their products are built with quality components, focusing on cooling efficiency and stability.
