Wired headsets are essential for seamless audio playback and clear speech, making them ideal for unified communication environments, home office conferencing, and office-based call setups.

The USB Office Headset with USB-C Adapter offers professional-grade connectivity to PCs, laptops, and other devices with USB Type-C ports. Its binaural design delivers crisp stereo audio, effectively replacing built-in speakers on laptops or PCs. The flexible, omni-directional microphone ensures crystal-clear voice capture for superior audio clarity during video calls. Convenient in-line controls allow for quick adjustments to volume and muting, perfect for video conferencing flexibility. With its lightweight design, the headset provides all-day comfort, making it ideal for long hours in offices or call centers. It is also fully compatible with popular VoIP and office software.

The included USB Type-C to USB Type-A adapter ensures broad compatibility, allowing the headset to connect to both laptops with USB Type-C inputs and desktop PCs with only USB Type-A ports. Additionally, built-in status LEDs provide a quick visual cue when the microphone is muted, ensuring
