The i-Tec SOLOMON Pro 900 is designed to enhance video conferencing and streaming experiences. Offering a maximum digital video resolution of 3840 x 2160, this webcam ensures that every detail is captured with clarity. With a variety of image resolutions available, including 1920 x 1080 and 2560 x 1440, flexibility in video quality makes it an ideal choice for various needs, from professional meetings to casual chats. Equipped with advanced features such as AI auto framing and automatic exposure control, it adapts seamlessly to different lighting conditions and environments, ensuring optimal performance every time.

Additionally, the i-Tec SOLOMON Pro 900 includes built-in dual microphones that capture audio with clarity within a 3 m radius, complementing its high-definition video capabilities. The webcam's 92° field of view allows for a broader perspective, making it perfect for group calls. Combined with a user-friendly Plug-and-Play setup, this device is suitable for a range of applications, whether for remote work, online education, or personal use, making it a valuable addition to any setup.
