Freewell thumb grip with cold shoe mount for Fuji X100VI (silver)

The Freewell grip is an ergonomic extension for the Fujifilm X100VI, designed for greater comfort and stability when shooting. The mount does not obscure any buttons or dials, allowing you to maintain full control of your camera even during long sessions.

Integrated cold shoe mount

The integrated cold shoe mount allows you to quickly attach additional accessories - such as a microphone or LED light. This is a convenient solution for those who want to expand their kit without interfering with the camera's design or limiting space.
