the most important information. The AI analyzes the course of meetings, generates titles, summaries, and mind maps, making it much easier to quickly find the most important points. The AI Deep Search feature is also available, allowing you to instantly search for specific information stored in recordings. What's more, you can customize the smart summaries to suit the specifics of your industry, ensuring that the generated reports better align with the nature of your work.

Record, save, and manage every conversation

The headset features several recording modes suited for various applications—from phone calls and online and offline meetings to lectures, as well as audio and video content. The FlashRecord feature lets you start recording immediately after pressing a button on the headset, without having to reach for your phone. Thanks to independent recording technology, files are saved directly to the headset, and you can then conveniently play them back, transcribe them, or translate them in the app. The system supports a variety of recording environments and automatically converts recorded content into text, making it easier to organize and review later.

Seamless Communication Without Borders

VIAIM Recdot 2 effectively eliminates language barriers by supporting as many as 78 languages and 145 dialects. You can speak in Polish, and your words will be relayed to the other person in the foreign language of your choice, which significantly simplifies international meetings, business trips, and conversations with foreign partners. The other person responds in their native language, without having to install any additional apps. The real-time translation feature is also ideal for lectures, training sessions, or courses abroad, allowing you to easily follow along with the content and later review both the original text and the finished translation.

High-Quality Sound

Hi-Res Audio certification and LHDC codec support ensure detailed, rich sound with a wide frequency range. The headphones reproduce low frequencies starting at 20 Hz and high frequencies up to 48 kHz, making the music sound natural and rich in detail. Active Noise Cancellation (ANC) with up to 48 dB of effectiveness ensures a comfortable listening experience. An intelligent AI algorithm analyzes ambient sounds and automatically adjusts the noise cancellation level to current conditions, allowing you to better focus on music, work, or conversation even in noisy environments.

Clear Calls in Any Environment

Each earbud is equipped with three microphones and an additional bone-conduction microphone. This combination allows for more effective voice pickup and reduces the impact of ambient noise. An advanced noise-reduction algorithm during calls amplifies speech and minimizes background noise, ensuring that conversations remain clear even on crowded streets, at train stations, or in open-plan offices.

All-Day Comfort

The minimalist, elegant design fits perfectly into both business environments and everyday use. Each earbud weighs just 4.8 g, making it almost imperceptible even when worn for hours on end. The set includes silicone ear tips in four sizes (XS, S, M, and L), making it easy to find a comfortable fit for different ear shapes. Size M is pre-installed. The IP55 rating provides protection against dust, sweat, and splashes, making the earbuds ideal for workouts and outdoor activities.

Long battery life and convenient use

On a single charge, the earbuds can last up to 9 hours, and with the charging case, the total runtime reaches up to 36 hours. The case supports wireless charging, so all you need to do is place it on a compatible induction charger to recharge without cables. Bluetooth 5.2 ensures a stable connection to your devices, and the dual-device pairing feature lets you conveniently switch between your smartphone and laptop. The VIAIM app, available for Android and iOS, offers additional features. It lets you manage recordings, transcriptions, and translations; adjust the noise-cancellation level; check the fit of the earbuds; configure sound effects and button functions, manage connected devices, use voice recognition, locate the earbuds, and store files in the cloud.
