Carlinkit 2AIR is a car adapter for Android Auto and CarPlay. With its help, you will be able to quickly and easily connect wirelessly to your vehicle, giving you a better driving experience! All you have to do is plug it into a USB port. It is also compatible with voice assistants such as Siri and Google. What's more, it uses plug&play technology, which means you don't need any additional drivers for the device to work. In addition, it shows automatic reconnection. What does this mean? The next time you get in the car, 2AIR will automatically connect to your smartphone, and you won't have to waste time pairing again!

Easy to use

The Carlinkit device is not only functional, it's also easy to use. It allows you to control it with the OEM knob, through buttons on the steering wheel, or by touch, thanks to the control panel. This makes it possible for you to control your vehicle the way you like it best! Starting today, you can easily turn on music, navigation or make a call. What's more, this device also has access to online updates, which you will make with just one click! In addition, thanks to its small size (76 × 43 × 12.3 mm), it will fit perfectly into the interior of any vehicle.

Wide compatibility

2AIR demonstrates wide compatibility. It will work well with iPhone 6 or later, devices running iOS 10 or later, as well as Android 11.0 and later. As a result, nothing will limit you anymore! In addition, this adapter uses 2.4G 5G transmission, which makes it less susceptible to interference and shows faster connection to cell phones." For a better visual experience, the Carlinkit logo changes colors according to the colors of the music application.
