Aprašymas

Crafted from durable aluminum, this junction box is designed to enhance and protect your surveillance setup. Weighing 2 kg (2 kg), it offers a sturdy base for your equipment. The universal compatibility feature ensures it can be used with a wide range of devices, making it a versatile addition to any security system installation.

Finished in a classic white, the box blends seamlessly with various environments, maintaining a neat and professional appearance. It is manufactured by Hikvision Digital Technology, a leader in the security and surveillance industry, known for its commitment to quality and innovation.

The design of the junction box facilitates easy installation and maintenance, providing a reliable housing that shields sensitive connections from environmental factors. This accessory not only simplifies the management of wiring but also extends the longevity of the setup by preventing potential damage from external elements.
