Aprašymas

Designed for compatibility with the Hikvision DS-2CD2385FWD-I camera, this junction box is a robust accessory crafted from aluminum, ensuring durability and stability in mounting setups. Available in both black and white, it seamlessly integrates with various environments and decor styles. Weighing 2 kg (2 kg), it provides a secure and stable base for camera installations.

The junction box is engineered by Hikvision Digital Technology, a leader in surveillance and security systems, ensuring high-quality construction and compatibility with specific camera models. Its design facilitates easy installation and maintenance, allowing for a clean and organized setup by concealing wires and connections within the box. This feature not only enhances the aesthetic appeal but also protects the wiring from environmental factors and potential tampering.

Suitable for both indoor and outdoor use, this junction box is an essential component for those who seek a professional and neat installation of their security cameras, ensuring that all parts are shielded and the system operates efficiently.
