Aprašymas

This network video recorder features an 8-channel recording capability and supports up to 8 Power over Ethernet (PoE) inputs. It is housed in a compact 1U chassis, making it suitable for space-efficient setups in various environments. The device includes two hard drive slots, allowing for extensive video storage, and is compatible with HDDs of various capacities.

Equipped with WizSense technology, the recorder enhances surveillance operations through advanced analytics such as motion detection and facial recognition. This technology aids in reducing false alarms and increasing the accuracy of security alerts. The unit supports various video compression formats, including H.265 and H.264, which help in optimizing storage space and maintaining high-quality video output.

Connectivity options include HDMI and VGA outputs, enabling direct connection to monitors for real-time video feed viewing or playback. The recorder also offers network interfaces for remote access and management, allowing users to monitor and control the system from distant locations through compatible software applications.
