Aprašymas

The AudioCodes RX-PAD Meeting Room Controller is a center-of-room intelligent touch controller that provides quick and complete access to AudioCodes meeting room solutions. It enables capabilities such as one-click collaboration initiation with an integrated calendar, simple content sharing and camera adjustments, and much more, all while retaining a modest footprint on the conference room table. The RX-PAD leverages plug-and-play simplicity to provide a productive and familiar Microsoft Teams meeting experience, requiring only a PoE cable for quick installation. This cable is inserted into a cleverly designed compartment that prevents it from being accidentally disconnected by a meeting participant.
