Dolby Vision in the World of AR

When you pair the Pocket TV Pro with RayNeo GT series glasses, you can enjoy the world's first AR glasses system that supports Dolby Vision. This technology lets you experience richer HDR details and cinematic colors, making movies and other content look even more impressive. In this way, the Pocket TV Pro can turn your bed, an airplane seat, or your living room couch into a private viewing space, offering a big-screen experience without the need for a traditional TV.

Thousands of apps and up to 2 TB of storage

Pocket TV Pro provides access to over 10,000 apps and more than 400,000 movies, TV shows, and other content, allowing you to use services such as YouTube, Prime Video, Netflix, and Disney+. The device also lets you store your own movies and recordings—it has 64 GB of built-in storage, which can be expanded with a microSD card of up to 2 TB. Combined with 3 GB of RAM, this ensures smooth access to both streaming services and locally stored content.

Up to 5.5 hours of uninterrupted viewing

The built-in 6500 mAh battery provides up to 5.5 hours of continuous viewing, making it easy to use the device while traveling or during longer viewing sessions. The Pocket TV Pro is also equipped with two USB-C ports, allowing you to connect AR glasses and charge the player simultaneously. This lets you continue watching even while the device is charging, without having to disconnect the glasses.

Convenient Voice Control

Google Assistant support lets you control the Pocket TV Pro with your voice. This way, you can search for content that interests you, control playback, and access entertainment without having to manually select individual functions. This feature makes operation easier, especially when the player is connected to AR glasses.
